Mayor and Members of Council,

This email provides today's update on the status of the on-going demonstrations. The Ottawa Police Service along with integrated support from the RCMP, OPP and Police agencies across Ontario and Quebec made progress today by clearing Nicholas Street. Operations continue around Rideau and Sussex Streets this evening with Police currently reporting over 100 arrests.

The Emergency Operations Centre (EOC) continues to monitor the impacts across the City and is engaged with City services and external partners. As a result of the transition to active enforcement to end the protest, I will not be providing daily updates after today but rather as required.

Updates from the Ottawa Police Service

The Interim Chief of the Ottawa Police Service, Steve Bell, provided updates at a press conference this afternoon and answered questions from the media. You can watch the recording on YouTube: <https://youtu.be/IGIYDLnqksQ>

Ticketing and towing

Due to the current law enforcement operations By-law is not ticketing in the secure area. 342 tickets were issued on February 17 and the total number of tickets issued since January 28 is 3,546. Ottawa Police announced this afternoon that 21 vehicles were towed.

Support to the NCRCC and Ottawa Police Service

The City's EOC has been working all day to coordinate and implement various requests from Police in support of the current enforcement operations. This includes but is not limited to: provision of buses; traffic management; installation of fencing; facility access; By-Law animal control; and, deployment of paramedic resources. The City's EOC will continue to work with partners to monitor and mitigate the impacts of the police operations on residents – particularly those in the downtown core.

Service and traffic impacts

A public service announcement (PSA) was issued this evening detailing the impacts to City services and ongoing traffic delays or disruptions, particularly downtown, resulting from police operations in the secure area. Residents should consult the City's online traffic map for up-to-date information.

As a result of the police checkpoints and the overnight snowfall, travel within and around the secure area has been challenging today. The EOC has been working with the NCRCC to facilitate access for essential workers, including healthcare workers and those supporting the work of the Human Needs Task Force at the City's shelter on Nicholas Street.

In addition, City Roads staff have been working since early last evening to clear snow, including by prioritizing areas required to facilitate police operations today.

Impacts on OC Transpo

Transit services are restricted downtown due to ongoing police activity. Until further notice, O-Train Line 1 will continue to operate from Tunney's Pasture to Pimisi Station in the west, and from Blair to Hurdman Station in the east.

Beginning this Sunday, February 20, 15 bus routes serving downtown, as well as Para Transpo trips to and from Rideau-Vanier and Somerset wards, will be no-charge. More information on downtown detours and no-charge bus and Para Transpo service are available at octranspo.com.

Keeping residents informed

We continue to encourage residents to stay up to date in these ways:

- follow the OPS Twitter channel
- visit the OPS's Demonstration Information and Updates webpage
- consult the City's Demonstration in Ottawa webpage
- follow the City's Facebook and Twitter channels

Monsieur le Maire et membres du Conseil,

Le présent courriel fait le point aujourd'hui sur les manifestations en cours. Le Service de police d'Ottawa, avec le soutien intégré de la Gendarmerie royale du Canada (GRC), de la Police provinciale de l'Ontario (PPO) et de services de polices de l'Ontario et du Québec, a réalisé des progrès aujourd'hui en libérant la rue Nicholas. Les opérations se poursuivent ce soir près des rues Rideau et Sussex; à l'heure actuelle, la police rapporte plus de 100 arrestations.

Le Centre des opérations d'urgence (COU) continue de suivre les répercussions sur la Ville et de collaborer avec les services municipaux et les partenaires externes. En raison de la transition vers l'application active pour mettre fin à la manifestation, je ne fournirai pas de mises à jour quotidiennes après aujourd'hui, mais plutôt au besoin.

Mises à jour du Service de police d'Ottawa

Steve Bell, chef intérimaire du SPO, a fourni des mises à jour lors d'une conférence de presse cet après-midi et répondu aux questions des médias. Vous pouvez regarder l'enregistrement sur YouTube : <https://youtu.be/LlpKQ6LwYag>.

Contraventions et remorquage

En raison des opérations d'application de la loi en cours, les Services des règlements municipaux ne dressent pas de contraventions dans la zone sécurisée. Les Services ont émis 342 contraventions le 17 février et le nombre total de contraventions émises depuis le 28 janvier est de 3 546. La police d'Ottawa a annoncé cet après-midi que 21 véhicules ont été remorqués.

Soutien au Centre de commandement de la région de la capitale nationale (CCRCN) et au Service de police d'Ottawa

Le COU de la Ville a travaillé toute la journée à coordonner et à mettre en œuvre diverses demandes de soutien de la police pour soutenir les opérations d'application de la loi en cours. Cela comprend, mais sans toutefois s'y limiter : la fourniture d'autobus; la gestion du trafic; l'installation de clôtures; l'accès aux installations; les services des règlements municipaux en matière de contrôle des animaux; et le déploiement de ressources paramédicales. Le COU de la Ville continuera de travailler avec ses partenaires pour surveiller et atténuer les répercussions des opérations policières sur les résidents – en particulier ceux qui vivent au centre-ville.

Répercussions sur les services et la circulation

Un message d'intérêt public a été publié ce soir détaillant les répercussions sur les services municipaux et la circulation, à la suite des opérations policières dans la zone sécurisée. Les résidents sont invités à consulter la carte de circulation interactive de la Ville pour obtenir des renseignements à jour.

En raison des points de contrôle policiers et des chutes de neige au cours de la nuit, les déplacements à l'intérieur et autour de la zone sécurisée ont été difficiles aujourd'hui. Le COU a travaillé avec le CCRCN afin de faciliter l'accès des travailleurs essentiels, y compris les travailleurs de la santé et les personnes appuyant le travail du Groupe de travail sur les besoins humains au refuge municipal situé sur la rue Nicholas.

De plus, le personnel des Services des routes de la Ville travaille depuis tôt hier soir à dégager la neige, y compris en priorisant les secteurs requis pour faciliter les opérations policières qui se sont déroulées aujourd'hui.

Répercussions sur les services d'OC Transpo

Les services de transport en commun sont réduits au centre-ville en raison des activités policières. Jusqu'à nouvel ordre, la Ligne 1 de l'O-Train demeurera en service entre les stations Tunney's Pasture et Pimisi, à l'ouest, et entre les stations Blair et Hurdman, à l'est.

À compter du dimanche 20 février, 15 circuits desservant le centre-ville, ainsi que les trajets de Para Transpo en provenance et en direction des quartiers Rideau-Vanier et Somerset seront sans frais. Vous trouverez plus d'information sur les déviations au centre-ville et les services d'autobus et de Para Transpo sans frais à octranspo.com.

Updates from the Ottawa Police Service

The Interim Chief of the Ottawa Police Service (OPS), Steve Bell, provided updates at a press conference this afternoon and answered questions from the media.

You can watch the recording on YouTube: <https://youtu.be/LIpKQ6LwYag>

After the press conference, the OPS issued the following media advisory.

Secured Area Established

Under the Emergency Management and Civil Protection Act, the Unified Command in control of policing in Ottawa has established a Secured Area to ensure that individuals comply with the Emergency Measures Regulations and to ensure designated places (Parliament, Government buildings, critical infrastructure etc.) are protected.

You cannot travel to or within an area where an assembly is taking place contrary to the Regulations.

At this time, the Secured Area is from Bronson Avenue to the Canal, the Queensway to Parliament Hill.

Anyone can enter the Secured Area if you fall under an exemption in the Regulations, meaning that you:

- a. reside, work or are moving through that area for reasons other than to participate in or facilitate the assembly;*
- b. are acting with the permission of a peace officer or the Minister of Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness;*
- c. are a peace officer; or*
- d. are an employee or agent of the government of Canada or a province who is acting in the execution of their duties.*

You can expect to see police checkpoints where you will be asked your reason for travelling within the Secured Area.

You will be required to show proof of exemption for your travel to the Secured Area.

Expect traffic delays in and around the Secured Area. Please avoid the downtown core if you have no reason to be there.

"We do not take this decision lightly, we know this will impact the residents. Please bear with us while we work to return the city to a state of normalcy" stated Interim Chief Steve Bell. "We want to reassure everyone that if you live, work or have a reason to be in the area that your access will be minimally impacted."

We want you to be aware that entering the Secured Area for the purpose of contravening the Emergency Act, may result in you being arrested and/or charged.

The Secured Area will only be enforced as long as necessary.

Service impacts

A public service announcement (PSA) is being issued this evening with impacts to City services resulting from police operations and tomorrow's weather forecast. The PSA will be available in the City newsroom.

Map of Secured Area

We are developing a map of the secured area and of the road closures. The map will be promoted on social media when finalized.

Vous pouvez regarder l'enregistrement sur YouTube : https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LlpKQ6LwYag

Après la conférence de presse, le SPO a publié l'avis aux médias suivant.

Établissement d'un secteur sécuritaire

En vertu de la Loi sur les mesures d'urgence le commandement unifié qui dirige les services policiers à Ottawa a établi une zone sécurisée pour faire en sorte que les particuliers se conforment aux directives liées aux mesures d'urgence et pour assurer la protection de lieux désignés (le Parlement, les édifices gouvernementaux, les infrastructure essentielles, etc.).

Il est interdit de vous rendre dans un secteur où un rassemblement a lieu à l'encontre des Règlements, ainsi que de vous y déplacer.

À l'heure actuelle, la zone sécurisée est située entre l'avenue Bronson et le Canal, du Queensway à la colline du Parlement.

N'importe qui peut entrer dans la zone sécurisée si cette personne fait l'objet d'une exemption dans le cadre des Règlements, soit qu'elle:

- a. habite, travaille ou se déplace dans le secteur pour d'autres raisons que celles de participer ou faciliter le rassemblement;
- b. agit avec l'autorisation d'un agent de la paix ou celle du ministre de la Sécurité publique et de la Protection civile;
- c. est un agent de la paix;
- d. est un employé ou agent du gouvernement du Canada ou d'une province et qui agit dans l'exercice de ses fonctions.

Vous pouvez prévoir rencontrer des points de contrôle policiers où l'on vous demandera le motif de votre déplacement dans la zone sécurisée.

Vous devrez présenter une preuve d'exemption pour vous avoir accès à la zone sécurisée.

Attendez-vous à des ralentissements de la circulation dans la zone sécurisée et ses alentours. Merci d'éviter le centre-ville si vous n'y avez pas de raison d'y être.

« Nous ne prenons pas cette décision à la légère, nous savons qu'elle affectera les résidents. Merci d'être indulgents avec nous tandis que nous ramenons la ville à un état normal », a dit le chef intérimaire Steve Bell. « Nous tenons à rassurer les gens du fait que s'ils habitent, travaillent ou disposent d'une bonne raison de se trouver dans le secteur, leur accès sera très peu affecté. »

Nous tenons à ce que vous sachiez que le fait de pénétrer dans le secteur d'accès contrôlé dans le but de contrevenir à la Loi sur les mesures d'urgence vous expose à être arrêté et inculpé.

La zone sécurisée ne sera maintenue qu'aussi longtemps que nécessaire.

Incidences sur les services

Un message d'intérêt public sera publié ce soir pour annoncer les répercussions sur les services municipaux en raison des opérations policières et en raison de la température. Le message d'intérêt public sera disponible dans Sujets de l'heure de la Ville.

Carte de la zone sécurisée

Nous élaborons une carte de la zone sécurisée et des fermetures de routes. La carte sera partagée sur les médias sociaux une fois finalisée.

Soutenir les demandes des conseillers

La façon la plus efficace pour les conseillers d'obtenir des réponses à leurs questions est de passer par leur responsable de la liaison avec le Conseil. Habituellement, le responsable de la liaison avec le Conseil peut vous répondre plus rapidement que moi.

Tenir les résidents informés

Nous nous attendons à ce que la situation évolue rapidement, alors encouragez les résidents à rester à jour de cette façon :

- Suivre le canal Twitter SPO.
- Visiter la page Web Mise à jour sur la manifestation du SPO.

« Nous ne prenons pas cette décision à la légère, nous savons qu'elle affectera les résidents. Merci d'être indulgents avec nous tandis que nous ramenons la ville à un état normal », a dit le chef intérimaire Steve Bell. « Nous tenons à rassurer les gens du fait que s'ils habitent, travaillent ou disposent d'une bonne raison de se trouver dans le secteur, leur accès sera très peu affecté. »

Nous tenons à ce que vous sachiez que le fait de pénétrer dans le secteur d'accès contrôlé dans le but de contrevenir à la Loi sur les mesures d'urgence vous expose à être arrêté et inculpé.

La zone sécurisée ne sera maintenue qu'aussi longtemps que nécessaire.

Incidences sur les services

Un message d'intérêt public sera publié ce soir pour annoncer les répercussions sur les services municipaux en raison des opérations policières et en raison de la température. Le message d'intérêt public sera disponible dans Sujets de l'heure de la Ville.

Carte de la zone sécurisée

Nous élaborons une carte de la zone sécurisée et des fermetures de routes. La carte sera partagée sur les médias sociaux une fois finalisée.

Soutenir les demandes des conseillers

La façon la plus efficace pour les conseillers d'obtenir des réponses à leurs questions est de passer par leur responsable de la liaison avec le Conseil. Habituellement, le responsable de la liaison avec le Conseil peut vous répondre plus rapidement que moi.

Tenir les résidents informés

Nous nous attendons à ce que la situation évolue rapidement, alors encouragez les résidents à rester à jour de cette façon :

- Suivre le canal Twitter SPO.
- Visiter la page Web Mise à jour sur la manifestation du SPO.
- Consulter la page Web Manifestation à Ottawa.
- Suivre les canaux Facebook et Twitter de la Ville.

Je vous remercie.

Mayor and Members of Council,

This email provides today's update on the status of the truck convoy in Ottawa.

Movement in the red zone

As of yesterday evening, approximately 40 large trucks moved out of residential streets in the downtown core and either relocated onto Wellington Street or left the area.

We are seeing a gradual reduction of vehicles in the red zone, with approximately 357 remaining, including RVs, trucks, and cars. An Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) helicopter and Ottawa Police Service (OPS) drones are now enabling a more accurate vehicle count.

Ticketing and towing

By-law Officers continued their work in the red zone on Monday, supporting OPS as part of the Quick Response Teams. They issued 47 parking tickets yesterday but ceased enforcement activities at 11:45 am, at the request of the OPS, due to convoy movement within the zone.

Since January 28, the number of parking tickets issued in the red zone is 2,903. The total number of passenger vehicles towed is 34 since January 28. No vehicles were towed today.

City injunction

As mentioned in yesterday's update, the Ontario Superior Court of Justice has granted the City's request for an injunction to address widespread disregard for municipal by-laws resulting from ongoing demonstrations downtown. The court order is now available to the public. A second memo on the injunction was sent to Council earlier today.

Service impacts

The new bus detours for Routes 10, 11, and 16 were implemented this morning, providing more reliable access in Centretown, including sections of Bank Street, Gladstone Avenue, Albert Street and Bronson Avenue.

Monsieur le Maire et membres du Conseil,

Ce courriel fait le point aujourd'hui sur le statut du convoi de camions à Ottawa.

Mouvement dans la zone rouge

En date de hier soir, environ 40 gros camions se sont éloignés des rues résidentielles au centre-ville et se sont déplacés sur la rue Wellington ou ont quitté le secteur.

Nous constatons une réduction graduelle du nombre de véhicules dans la zone rouge. Il en reste environ 357, dont des véhicules récréatifs, des camions et des voitures. Un hélicoptère de la Police provinciale de l'Ontario (OPP) et des drones du Service de police d'Ottawa (SPO) permettent maintenant un comptage plus précis des véhicules.

Contraventions et remorquage

Les agents d'application des règlements municipaux ont poursuivi leur travail dans la zone rouge lundi, soutenant le SPO dans le cadre des équipes d'intervention rapide. Ils ont donné 47 contraventions hier, mais ont cessé de les appliquer à 11 h 45 à la demande du SPO, en raison du mouvement du convoi dans la zone.

Depuis le 28 janvier, le nombre de contraventions émises dans la zone rouge est de 2 903. Le nombre total de véhicules à passagers remorqués est de 34 depuis le 28 janvier. Aucun véhicule n'a été remorqué aujourd'hui.

Injonction de la Ville

Comme nous l'avons mentionné dans la mise à jour d'hier, la Cour supérieure de justice de l'Ontario a accédé à la demande d'injonction de la Ville afin de remédier au non-respect généralisé des règlements municipaux résultant des manifestations en cours au centre-ville. L'ordonnance du tribunal est maintenant disponible au public. Une deuxième note de service sur l'injonction a été envoyée au Conseil plus tôt aujourd'hui.

Incidences sur les services

Les nouveaux détours d'autobus pour les circuits 10, 11 et 16 ont été mis en place ce matin, offrant un accès plus fiable au centre-ville, notamment des tronçons des rues Bank et Albert, et des avenues Gladstone et Bronson.

Mayor and Members of Council,

The Ontario Superior Court granted the City's request for an injunction addressing demonstrators widespread disregard for municipal by-laws. The injunction provides law enforcement authorities with an additional tool to restrain demonstrators from setting unlawful fires, discharging fireworks, causing noise, blocking or damaging roads, and idling vehicles where they are in violation of the City's Idling Control By-law. The City Solicitor shared a memo with City Council today and will be available to answer questions on the injunction during tomorrow's Council meeting.

Today, the federal government invoked the Emergencies Act, for a time limited duration, to address on-going blockades and protests against pandemic restrictions. The Emergencies Act gives police more tools to restore order in places where public assemblies constitute illegal and dangerous activities and enables government to designate and secure critical areas such as border crossings and airports.

The negotiation that occurred with the organizers of the Freedom Convoy 2022 has resulted already in some movement of vehicles out of downtown residential neighbourhoods today. It should be noted, however, that this is a large undertaking and is complicated by the fact that there are a number of factions representing various interests amongst the remaining demonstrators. Staff will be supporting the National Capital Region Command Centre (NCRCC) and the Ottawa Police Service to assist vehicles leaving the downtown area or re-locating to Wellington Street, away from residents.

By-law Officers were able to resume their work in the red zone on Sunday, supporting Police as part of the Quick Response Teams. By-Law Officers issued 366 parking tickets in the red zone on Sunday. Since January 28, the number of parking tickets issued in the red zone is 2,856. Today, as part of the Police efforts to focus on enabling vehicle movements out of downtown residential streets, By-Law enforcement activities under the Quick Response Teams were temporarily paused.

Transit Services have been able to institute some improvements to downtown bus routes. Starting tomorrow, the detour routing of Routes 10, 11, and 16 will be modified based on more reliable access to roads in Centretown, including sections of Bank, Gladstone, Albert and Bronson. Maps of the revised detours are available on octranspo.com. Residents who need to travel in and out of the downtown core should use O-Train Line 1. Currently, Rideau Station can only be accessed through the William Street entrance.

Monsieur le maire et Mesdames et Messieurs les membres du Conseil,

La Cour supérieure de justice de l'Ontario a accepté la demande d'injonction de la Ville concernant le non-respect généralisé des règlements municipaux de la part des manifestants. L'injonction fournit aux autorités policières un outil supplémentaire pour interdire les manifestants de faire des feux illégaux, de déployer des feux d'artifice, de causer du bruit, de bloquer ou d'endommager les routes, et de rouler au ralenti les véhicules lorsqu'ils enfreignent le Règlement sur la marche au ralenti. L'avocat général de la Ville a transmis aujourd'hui une note de service au Conseil municipal et sera à votre disposition pour répondre à des questions au sujet de l'injonction pendant la réunion du Conseil de demain.

Aujourd'hui, le gouvernement fédéral a invoqué la Loi sur les mesures d'urgence, pour une durée limitée, et pour s'attaquer aux blocus et aux manifestations en cours contre les restrictions en cas de pandémie. La Loi sur les mesures d'urgence donne à la police plus d'outils pour rétablir l'ordre dans les lieux où les assemblées publiques constituent des activités illégales et dangereuses et permet au gouvernement de désigner et de sécuriser des zones critiques comme postes frontaliers et aéroports.

La négociation qui a eu lieu avec les organisateurs du « Convoi de la liberté 2022 » a déjà abouti aujourd'hui à un certain mouvement de véhicules hors des quartiers résidentiels du centre-ville. Il convient toutefois de noter qu'il s'agit d'une initiative importante et qu'il y a un certain nombre de factions représentant divers intérêts parmi les manifestants restants. Les membres du personnel appuieront le Centre de commandement de la région de la capitale nationale ainsi que le Service de police d'Ottawa afin d'aider les véhicules à quitter la rue Wellington ou à les déplacer, loin des résidents.

Les agents des règlements municipaux ont pu reprendre leur travail en zone rouge dimanche pour appuyer la police en participant aux équipes d'intervention rapide. Les agents des règlements municipaux ont remis 366 contraventions de stationnement dans la zone rouge dimanche. Depuis le 28 janvier, 2 856 contraventions de stationnement ont été remises dans cette zone. Aujourd'hui, dans le cadre des efforts de la police visant à permettre les mouvements de véhicules hors des rues résidentielles du centre-ville, les activités de règlement sous les équipes d'intervention rapide ont été suspendues.

Les Services de transport en commun ont pu apporter des améliorations aux lignes d'autobus du centre-ville. À compter de demain, l'itinéraire de déviation des circuits 10, 11 et 16 sera modifié en fonction d'un accès plus fiable aux routes du centre-ville, notamment des sections de la rue Bank, de l'avenue Gladstone, de la rue Albert et de l'avenue Bronson. Des cartes des déviations révisées figurent à octranspo.com. Les résidents qui doivent se rendre au centre-ville et en revenir devraient utiliser la Ligne 1 de l'O-Train. Actuellement, la station Rideau est accessible uniquement par l'entrée de la rue William.

Mayor and Members of Council,

It continued to be a busy weekend for staff supporting the Ottawa Police Service and NCRCC. On Saturday evening, crowds were large and did not dissipate until after midnight.

Today's crowd sizes were a bit smaller. However, the agitation of the remaining protesters remains high – continuing to make operations more challenging.

The People's Party of Canada held a family breakfast barbecue on Wellington Street on Sunday, near the Terry Fox statue – raising the concern of more children present in the red zone.

By-law and Regulatory Services (BLRS) resumed operations today after stopping yesterday afternoon due to safety concerns. Before pausing, BLRS issued 316 parking tickets. Since January 28, 2,490 tickets have been issued in the red zone.

Sunday, protester convoys – made up of 40 smaller personal vehicles – moved out from both the Canadian Tire Centre and Coventry Road towards the downtown core but were intercepted by Ottawa Police Service.

In addition, counter-protests occurred at a number of locations, such as at Riverside Drive at the Bank Street intersection and in front of 474 Elgin Street, by Catherine and Elgin streets. While everyone in our community shares the same frustration, anxiety and anger from this ongoing demonstration and occupation, we urge residents to exercise caution and restraint. Residents should not confront the protesters and risk their personal safety and well-being. Public safety is our number one priority.

At 1500 Bronson, all vehicles, portable toilets, tents, and debris have now been removed. In addition, City and contracted staff working for Roads Services were able to salt in most of parts of the downtown core yesterday. With security support from NCRCC, they salted the busier sections of the red zone between 2 and 6 am this morning.

The City's Emergency Operations Centre continues to coordinate various support services, in collaboration with partners. This includes supporting residents living in the downtown core who are experiencing challenges attending nursing and medical appointments, as well as accessing provisions such as food and medication. EOC health partners are also conducting wellness checks via phone.

Environment Canada still has an Extreme Cold Warning in effect. The Salvation Army outreach van is operating 24 hours a day, but is avoiding the core as much as possible. Clients can call for van service directly at ^{s.11} and City staff can call ^{s.11}. The van will bring existing clients to the Shepherd's of Good Hope or The Mission, if they have a bed reserved at one of these sites.

As you are aware, Mayor Watson has negotiated with the organizers of the protest to have convoy vehicles exit residential neighbourhoods in the coming days. The Emergency Operations Centre stands ready to facilitate the convoy's exit and keep essential traffic moving around downtown and emergency access lanes open.

Any hate-motivated incidents can be reported to the police at 613-236-1222 ext. 5015, and any criminal offences directly related to the demonstrations can be reported to 613-236-1222 ext. 7300. Reports can also be made online at ottawapolice.ca. Police are investigating all reports. Finally, any threats conveyed towards individual members of Council, their staff, or directed at City facilities should also be reported to Corporate Security by emailing Clayton Foster.

Monsieur le Maire et membres du Conseil,

La fin de semaine a continué d'être très occupée pour le personnel du Service de police d'Ottawa et du Centre de commandement de la région de la capitale nationale (CCRCN). Le samedi soir, les foules étaient nombreuses et ne se sont pas dissipées avant minuit.

Aujourd'hui, la foule était un peu moins nombreuse. Cependant, l'agitation des manifestants restants demeure élevée – ce qui continue de rendre les opérations plus difficiles.

Le Parti populaire du Canada a organisé un barbecue pour un petit-déjeuner en famille sur la rue Wellington dimanche, près de la statue de Terry Fox – soulevant l'inquiétude de voir davantage d'enfants présents dans la zone rouge.

La Direction des services des règlements municipaux (DSRM) a repris ses activités aujourd'hui après les avoir interrompues hier après-midi pour des raisons de sécurité. Avant de s'arrêter, la DSRM a émis 316 contraventions de stationnement. Depuis le 28 janvier, 2 490 contraventions ont été données dans la zone rouge.

Dimanche, des convois de manifestants – composés de 40 petits véhicules personnels – ont quitté le Centre Canadian Tire et le chemin Coventry en direction du centre-ville, mais ont été interceptés par le Service de police d'Ottawa.

En outre, des contre-manifestations ont eu lieu à plusieurs endroits, notamment sur la promenade Riverside à l'intersection de la rue Bank et devant le 474, rue Elgin, à l'angle des rues Catherine et Elgin. Bien que tous les membres de notre communauté partagent la même frustration, l'anxiété et la colère causées par cette manifestation et cette occupation, nous demandons aux résidents de faire preuve de prudence et de maîtrise. Les résidents ne doivent pas affronter les manifestants et risquer leur sécurité et leur bien-être personnels. La sécurité publique est notre priorité absolue.

Au 1500, avenue Bronson, tous les véhicules, toilettes portables, tentes et débris ont été enlevés. De plus, le personnel de la Ville et les contractuels travaillant pour les Services des routes ont pu saler la plupart des parties du centre-ville hier. Avec le soutien de la sécurité du CCRCN, ils ont salé les sections les plus fréquentées de la zone rouge entre 2 h et 6 h ce matin.

Le Centre des opérations d'urgence (COU) de la Ville continue de coordonner divers services de soutien, en collaboration avec des partenaires. Il s'agit notamment d'aider les résidents du centre-ville qui éprouvent des difficultés à se rendre à leurs rendez-vous médicaux ou de soins infirmiers, ainsi qu'à obtenir des provisions comme de la nourriture et des médicaments. Les partenaires de santé du COU effectuent également des contrôles de santé par téléphone.

L'avertissement de froid extrême émis par Environnement Canada demeure en vigueur. La fourgonnette de sensibilisation de l'Armée du Salut est en service 24 heures sur 24, mais elle évite autant que possible le cœur de la ville. Les clients peuvent appeler directement la fourgonnette au ^{s.11} et le personnel de la Ville au ^{s.11}. La fourgonnette amènera les clients actuels aux Bergers de l'espoir ou à La Mission, s'ils ont un lit réservé à l'un de ces sites.

Comme vous le savez, le maire Watson a négocié avec les organisateurs de la manifestation pour que les véhicules du convoi quittent les quartiers résidentiels dans les prochains jours. Le Centre des opérations d'urgence est prêt à faciliter la sortie du convoi et à maintenir la circulation essentielle dans le centre-ville et les voies d'accès d'urgence ouvertes.

Tout incident motivé par la haine peut être signalé à la police au 613-236-1222, poste 5015, et toute infraction criminelle directement liée aux manifestations peut être signalée au 613-236-1222, poste 7300. Les rapports peuvent également être faits en ligne à ottawapolice.ca. La police enquête sur tous les rapports. Enfin, toute menace à l'endroit d'un membre du Conseil ou de son personnel, ou visant les installations de la Ville, doit être signalée à la Sécurité municipale en envoyant un courriel à Clayton Foster.

Premier Ford declared a Provincial State of Emergency this morning. We will be reviewing the emergency orders as they are enacted and will have more information to share on the impact of this announcement for Ottawa.

A memo was provided to City Council earlier today about our intent to obtain an injunction in respect of the by-law violations arising out of the ongoing protests. More information will be provided on this to Council at a Special Council Meeting on Monday, February 14.

The Emergency Operations Centre (EOC) expects more demonstrations this weekend. Police partners are aware of several convoys, protests and counter protests that are possible. Crowd size estimates are currently not known but could be similar to what we saw last weekend. Demonstrators may also mobilize their efforts outside the downtown core. As a result, additional roadways across the city may experience traffic delays and disruptions.

This is Day 14 and the situation continues to evolve. City staff are dealing with new challenges every day and are continuing to prioritize resident and community safety.

This week, By-law and Regulatory Service staff embedded in the Police-led Quick Response Team (QRT) have been issuing tickets for infractions such as parking and noise violations to protesters in the downtown core. Yesterday, they targeted areas on Kent St, Bank St and Lyon St, and issued a total of 296 tickets. Since January 28, the number of parking tickets issued in the red zone is 1,732.

The EOC met with various partners yesterday to discuss air quality concerns specific to diesel exhaust from idling vehicles. Outdoor air quality in Ottawa is monitored by Environment and Climate Change Canada and the Ontario Ministry of the Environment. Air quality monitoring remains at “level 3”, which is considered low/acceptable. The City will continue to monitor provincial and federal air quality assessments and will be providing frontline workers (who are working close to the point source for longer periods of time) with guidance/commonsense precautions.

City staff are also trying to relieve some pressure on Ottawa Police, who are being targeted by false 9-1-1 calls. While the City’s 3-1-1 service is not able to directly support 9-1-1, they are able to relieve some pressure from the Police Reporting Unit by handling certain types of voicemails. PIMR has also updated the City webpage to direct residents to the appropriate City intake channels rather than to 9-1-1 (e.g., for By-Law queries).

The City of Ottawa will be pausing public comments on the City of Ottawa’s corporate Facebook account for the duration of the City’s State of Emergency due to an apparent coordinated effort to spam the City’s feed with hateful or toxic comments, including racist comments, or misinformation and rumours.

Over a week and a half, the City received nearly 16,000 comments, replies, tags, mentions and messages on its primary Facebook page, which is a 1,100 per cent increase. Due to the sheer number of comments, we cannot effectively moderate and monitor to provide safe space for Ottawa residents. We will also be pausing comments on Instagram. If the demonstration continues into next week, the City will launch a temporary new space for engagement on Engage Ottawa in hopes of providing a safe space to continue local engagement and dialogue.

Monsieur le Maire, Mesdames et Messieurs les membres du Conseil,

Le premier ministre Doug Ford a déclaré l'état d'urgence provincial ce matin. Nous examinerons les décrets d'urgence au fur et à mesure qu'ils sont adoptés et pourrons vous fournir plus de renseignements sur les répercussions de cette annonce à Ottawa.

Une note de service a été envoyée au Conseil municipal plus tôt aujourd'hui au sujet de notre intention d'obtenir une injonction concernant les infractions aux règlements municipaux découlant des manifestations en cours. Plus de détails à ce sujet seront fournis au Conseil lors d'une réunion extraordinaire le lundi 14 février.

Le Centre des opérations d'urgence (COU) s'attend à de nouvelles manifestations cette fin de semaine. Les partenaires policiers sont au courant de plusieurs convois, manifestations et contre-manifestations qui pourraient survenir. La taille prévue des foules n'est pas encore connue, mais elle pourrait ressembler à celle de la fin de semaine dernière. Les manifestants pourraient également unir leurs efforts à l'extérieur du centre-ville. Par conséquent, d'autres rues dans la ville pourraient faire l'objet de ralentissements et de perturbations.

Nous en sommes au 14^e jour de la manifestation et la situation continue d'évoluer. Le personnel de la Ville fait face à de nouveaux défis chaque jour et il continue d'accorder la priorité à la sécurité des résidents et de la communauté.

Cette semaine, les employés des Services des règlements municipaux qui font partie de l'équipe d'intervention rapide dirigée par la police ont donné des contraventions, entre autres pour des infractions liées au stationnement et au bruit à des manifestants dans le centre-ville. Hier, ils ont ciblé les secteurs des rues Kent, Bank et Lyon et ont remis au total 296 contraventions.

Depuis le 28 janvier, 1 732 contraventions de stationnement ont été remises dans la zone rouge.

Le COU a rencontré divers partenaires hier pour discuter de préoccupations liées à la qualité de l'air en raison des émissions de diesel s'échappant de véhicules en marche. La qualité de l'air extérieur est surveillée par Environnement et Changement climatique Canada et le ministère de l'Environnement, de la Protection de la nature et des Parcs de l'Ontario. La qualité de l'air demeure au « niveau 3 », soit faible/acceptable. La Ville continuera de surveiller les évaluations de la qualité de l'air des gouvernements provincial et fédéral et fournira aux employés de première ligne (qui travaillent plus près des sources ponctuelles pour des périodes plus longues) des lignes directrices et des mesures de précaution à suivre, au besoin.

Le personnel municipal tente également d'alléger la pression sur la police d'Ottawa, qui fait l'objet de faux appels au 9-1-1. Bien que le Service 3-1-1 de la Ville ne puisse pas directement soutenir le 9-1-1, il est en mesure d'alléger un peu de la pression appliquée sur l'unité de déclaration de la Police en traitant certains types de messages vocaux. IPRM a également actualisé la page Web de la Ville pour diriger les résidents vers les modes de réception autres que le 9-1-1 (p. ex. pour les requêtes liées aux règlements municipaux).

La Ville d'Ottawa restreindra les commentaires publics sur le compte Facebook de la Ville pour la durée de l'état d'urgence en raison d'un effort concerté apparent de pollupostage du fil de la Ville de messages haineux et toxiques, y compris des commentaires racistes et de la désinformation et des rumeurs.

En une semaine et demie, la Ville a reçu près de 16 000 commentaires, réponses, identifications, mentions et messages sur sa page Facebook principale, ce qui représente une augmentation de 1 100 %. En raison du grand nombre de commentaires, nous ne sommes pas en mesure de bien surveiller et gérer la page pour offrir un espace sécuritaire à la population d'Ottawa. Nous restreindrons également les commentaires sur notre page Instagram. Si la manifestation se poursuit la semaine prochaine, la Ville lancera un nouvel espace temporaire d'engagement dans Participons Ottawa dans l'espoir d'offrir un endroit sécuritaire pour la poursuite de la participation et du dialogue local.

Mayor and Members of Council,

There are approximately 30 to 40 protesters on Parliament Hill and 100 to 200 people on the surrounding streets. In addition to that, we are aware of a convoy of 40 trucks that were circling the Ottawa International Airport earlier today, comprising vehicles from the Coventry site (RCGT Park). Ottawa Police Service have identified 400 vehicles remaining in the city. There are families and children in some of the vehicles, as well as at RCGT park. The Ottawa Police Service is working directly with the Children's Aid Society on this issue.

We understand that the presence and the activities of the demonstrators continue to negatively impact residents. And further, that the volume of material on social media is challenging to validate and address. Members of Council should continue to reach out through Councillor Liaison ^{s.11} who are playing a vital function in helping to raise your concerns to the appropriate parties and to validate information.

City employees continue to support the Ottawa Police Service in a variety of ways. By-Law and Regulatory Services continue to support the Police-led Quick Response Teams to enforce parking violations and other By-Law infractions. Roads and Traffic Management have been assisting Police to make changes in street access and to help address various disorder issues such as protesters driving through secure construction zones. City Roads staff are also responding to litter and debris pick-up requests.

The City's Emergency Operations Centre continues to coordinate various services, with support from partners. This includes supporting residents living in the downtown core who are experiencing challenges attending nursing and medical appointments, as well as accessing provisions such as food and medication. EOC health partners are also conducting wellness checks via phone.

The Police notified demonstrators yesterday that anyone blocking streets, or assisting others to block streets may be committing a criminal offence and could be arrested without a warrant and possibly have their vehicles seized. The Police also seized 20 jerry cans of fuel yesterday.

By-Law issued 218 parking tickets in the red zone yesterday. Since January 28, the number of parking tickets issued in the red zone is 1,436.

The EOC is working with our partners to forecast activities for the coming weekend. Some small convoys and at least one chartered bus may head to Ottawa. We will keep Members of Council informed as more information becomes available.

The Ottawa Police Service organized a media avail this afternoon to provide an update on the current situation. You can watch the video on their YouTube channel.

Any hate-motivated incidents can be reported to the police at 613-236-1222 ext. 5015, and any criminal offences directly related to the demonstrations can be reported to 613-236-1222 ext. 7300. Reports can also be made online at ottawapolice.ca. Police are investigating all reports. Finally, any threats conveyed towards individual members of Council, their staff, or directed at City facilities should also be reported to Corporate Security by emailing Clayton Foster.

Monsieur le Maire et Membres du Conseil,

Environ 30 à 40 manifestants sont présents sur la Colline du Parlement, et 100 à 200 dans les rues environnantes. De plus, on a eu connaissance qu'un convoi de 40 camions, comprenant des véhicules stationnés au site Coventry (parc RCGT), circulait autour de l'Aéroport international d'Ottawa plus tôt aujourd'hui. Le Service de police d'Ottawa a dénombré 400 véhicules encore dans la ville. Il y a des familles et des enfants dans certains des véhicules, tant en ville que dans le parc RCGT. Le Service de police d'Ottawa travaille directement avec la Société d'aide à l'enfance concernant ce problème.

Nous comprenons que la présence et les activités des manifestants continuent d'avoir des effets négatifs sur les résidents. En outre, il est difficile de valider et de traiter le volume d'information circulant sur les médias sociaux. Les membres du Conseil doivent continuer de s'adresser au responsable de la liaison avec le Conseil ^{s.11} dont le rôle est crucial pour valider l'information et faire part de vos inquiétudes aux parties concernées.

Les employés de la Ville continuent de soutenir le Service de police d'Ottawa de différentes manières. Les Services des règlements municipaux continuent d'appuyer les équipes d'intervention rapide dirigées par la police pour faire respecter le règlement sur le stationnement et sanctionner d'autres infractions aux règlements municipaux. La direction des services des routes et de la circulation routière a prêté main-forte à la police pour modifier des accès aux rues et permettre de régler différents problèmes de désordre comme les manifestants conduisant dans des zones de travaux dont l'accès est interdit. Le personnel des Routes répond également aux demandes de ramassage des déchets et des débris.

Le Centre des opérations d'urgence (COU) continue de coordonner différents services avec l'appui de partenaires, visant notamment à soutenir les résidents habitant au centre-ville qui ont de la difficulté à se rendre à des rendez-vous médicaux ou de soins infirmiers, ou à faire des courses (nourriture et médicaments). Les partenaires en santé du COU effectuent également des vérifications du bien-être par téléphone.

Les manifestants ont été avisés hier par la police que quiconque bloque les rues, ou aide d'autres personnes à bloquer des rues peut de ce fait commettre une infraction criminelle et pourrait donc être arrêté sans mandat pour cette infraction et voir possiblement son véhicule saisi. La police a également saisi 20 jerricanes de carburant hier.

Les Services des règlements municipaux ont remis 218 contraventions de stationnement dans la zone rouge hier. Depuis le 28 janvier, 1 436 contraventions de stationnement ont été remises dans la zone rouge.

Le COU travaille avec nos partenaires pour établir des prévisions relativement aux activités pour la fin de semaine à venir. Certains petits convois et au moins un autobus nolisé pourraient arriver à Ottawa. Nous tiendrons les membres du Conseil au courant au fur et à mesure que nous disposons de plus d'information.

Le Service de police d'Ottawa organise un point de presse cet après-midi afin de fournir un compte rendu de la situation actuelle. Vous pouvez regarder la vidéo sur sa chaîne YouTube.

Tout incident motivé par la haine peut être signalé à la police au 613-236-1222, poste 5015, et toute infraction pénale directement liée aux manifestations peut être signalée au 613-236-1222, poste 7300. Les rapports peuvent aussi être produits en ligne à ottawapolice.ca. La police enquête sur tous les rapports. Enfin, toute menace adressée à des membres du Conseil, à leur personnel ou à des installations municipales doit être signalée à la Sécurité d'entreprise par courriel à Clayton Foster.

Mayor and Members of Council,

There are currently minimal protesters on Parliament Hill and only small pockets within the surrounding streets. There were no major incidents yesterday. There were about 100 demonstrators in the Wellington corridor and approximately 400 vehicles in the red zone yesterday. Roads staff, as well as Ottawa Fire Services, supported Police in the removal of a small encampment that had been set up on private property on Metcalfe Street, near Slater Street.

Police facilitated the departure of 6-7 trucks yesterday afternoon and also continued to conduct fuel seizures, when it was safe to do so. To date, Police have laid 23 charges in relation to the demonstration and issued approximately 1,300 tickets. There are an additional 85 criminal offence investigations that are ongoing. Several vehicles have been seized and towed, including one stolen truck and an abandoned vehicle in a roadway.

The Ottawa Police Service is actively working with Canadian, U.S. and international security agencies to investigate email-based threats to public officials. Images of potential suspects are being released to the public, including those in connection to an attempted arson in the downtown core. The Police continue to collect financial, digital, vehicle registration, driver identification, insurance status, and other related evidence that will be used in criminal prosecutions.

The Police are receiving a significant number of requests on a broad range of topics. The Ottawa Police Service is working hard to respond to all of these requests, including through taskings to the Police Liaison Teams, as appropriate.

Remember that any hate-motivated incidents can be reported to the police at 613-236-1222 ext. 5015, and any criminal offences directly related to the demonstrations can be reported to 613-236-1222 ext. 7300. Reports can also be made online at ottawapolice.ca. Police are investigating all reports. The Councillor Liaison role has been put into place to help you with any inquiries.

Inquiries related to City service impacts and requests for By-law enforcement, please visit ottawa.ca/311 or call 3-1-1.

By-Law issued 154 tickets yesterday mainly for No Parking and No Stopping, bringing the total tickets issued in and around the red zone since January 28 to 1,218. No vehicles have been towed from the red zone to date.

The Province approved an increase in the set fine for certain relevant offences under the Noise By-law (2017-255), Use and Care of Roads By-law (2003-498) and Open Air Fire By-law (2004-163) to the maximum amount of $1,000 ($1,130 with the victim surcharge) permitted under the Provincial Offences Act.

By-Law Services will be submitting the same request for an increase in the set fine for certain relevant offences under the Idling Control By-law (2007-266) following the City Council amendment reducing the temperature prescribed in the by-law from five degrees Celsius to -15 degrees Celsius, applicable only to the demonstration areas.

Monsieur le Maire et chers membres du Conseil,

Il y a actuellement un nombre minime de manifestants sur la colline du Parlement et seulement de petits groupes dans les rues environnantes. Il n'y a eu aucun incident majeur hier. Hier, il y avait environ 100 manifestants dans le couloir de la rue Wellington et environ 400 véhicules dans la zone rouge. Le personnel des Services des routes, de même que le Service des incendies d'Ottawa, ont aidé la police à retirer un petit campement qui avait été installé sur une propriété privée de la rue Metcalfe, près de la rue Slater.

La police a facilité le départ de 6 à 7 camions hier après-midi et a continué à effectuer des saisies de carburant, lorsqu'il était sécuritaire de le faire. À ce jour, la police a porté 23 accusations en lien avec la manifestation et a émis environ 1 300 contraventions. Il y a également 85 enquêtes sur des infractions criminelles en cours. Plusieurs véhicules ont été saisis et remorqués, dont un camion volé et un véhicule abandonné sur une route.

Le Service de police d'Ottawa travaille activement avec les agences de sécurité canadiennes, américaines et internationales pour enquêter sur les menaces par courrier visant des fonctionnaires. Des images de suspects potentiels sont diffusées au public, y compris les images de suspects qui se rapportent à une tentative d'incendie criminel dans le centre-ville. La police continue de recueillir des preuves financières, numériques, d'immatriculation des véhicules, d'identification des conducteurs, d'assurance et d'autres éléments de preuve connexes qui seront utilisés dans les poursuites pénales.

Le Service de police d'Ottawa reçoit un nombre important de demandes sur un large éventail de sujets. Il travaille sans relâche pour répondre à toutes ces demandes, notamment en y affectant, s'il y a lieu, les équipes de liaison du Service de police.

Nous vous rappelons que tout incident motivé par la haine peut être signalé à la police en composant le 613-236-1222, poste 5015 et toute infraction criminelle en lien direct avec les manifestations peut être signalée au 613-236-1222, poste 7300. Les signalements peuvent également être effectués en ligne à ottawapolice.ca. Tous les signalements font l'objet d'une enquête par la police. Le rôle de responsable de la liaison avec le Conseil a été mis en place pour aider à répondre à demandes de renseignements.

En ce qui a trait aux demandes de renseignements liées aux répercussions sur les services municipaux et aux demandes d'application des règlements, veuillez consulter ottawa.ca/311 ou composer le 3-1-1.

Les Services des règlements municipaux ont émis 154 contraventions hier principalement liées au non-respect des panneaux de stationnement interdit et d'arrêt interdit, portant le total des contraventions émises dans la zone rouge et autour de celle-ci depuis le 28 janvier à 1 218. Aucun véhicule n'a été remorqué de la zone rouge jusqu'à présent.

La province a approuvé une augmentation de l'amende fixée pour certaines infractions pertinentes en vertu du Règlement sur le bruit (2017-255), du Règlement municipal sur l'utilisation et l'entretien des routes (2003-498) et du Règlement sur les feux en plein air (2004-163) jusqu'au montant maximal de 1 000 $ (1 130 $ avec la suramende compensatoire pour les victimes) permis en vertu de la Loi sur les infractions provinciales.

Les Services des règlements municipaux présenteront la même demande d'augmentation de l'amende fixée pour certaines infractions pertinentes en vertu du Règlement sur la marche au ralenti (2007-266) à la suite de la modification apportée par le Conseil municipal réduisant la température prescrite dans le règlement administratif de cinq degrés Celsius à -15 degrés Celsius, applicable uniquement aux zones de la manifestation.

Members of Council,

The crowd of demonstrators is thinning, but there is still a large amount of vehicles in the downtown core and the situation remains fluid. We continue to work on reducing gridlock while maintaining public safety.

There were no reports of significant disturbances overnight last night.

A few smaller convoys have been moving around the downtown core and outside the perimeter, but disruptions have been minimal.

There was some progress last night by the Ottawa Police Service (OPS) to restrict the use of vehicle horns overnight. We continue to work with OPS and are determining next steps so the downtown core and the city can return to some normalcy.

The Ottawa Police Service will be holding an information briefing for Members of Council and Ottawa Police Services Board members tomorrow from 2 to 4 pm. Chief Sloly will provide an update on the demonstration and respond to your questions. You will receive a meeting invitation for the Zoom information.

We will have a better sense of impacts on City services today and the City will release another PSA on the subject later this afternoon.

The City Hall parking garage will reopen tomorrow to City staff following the closure on Friday, January 28. Access will be verified by presenting a City workplace ID to security personnel, who will be posted at the P1 Elgin Street entrance. The parking garage remains closed to members of the public until further notice.

Thank you for your continued support.

Mesdames et Messieurs les membres du Conseil,

La foule de manifestants s'est quelque peu dispersée, mais il y a encore un grand nombre de véhicules au centre-ville et la situation demeure volatile. Nous poursuivons notre travail afin de désengorger les rues, tout en assurant la sécurité publique.

Aucun incident grave n'a été signalé au cours de la nuit dernière.

Quelques petits convois se sont déplacés dans le secteur du centre-ville et à l'extérieur du périmètre, mais les perturbations ont été minimales.

Le Service de police d'Ottawa a fait certains progrès dans l'objectif de limiter l'utilisation des klaxons la nuit. Nous continuons à travailler avec le Service afin de déterminer les prochaines étapes pour rétablir une certaine normalité au centre-ville et ailleurs dans la ville.

Le Service de police d'Ottawa tiendra une séance d'information pour les membres du Conseil et de la Commission de services policiers d'Ottawa demain, de 14 h à 16 h. Le chef Sloly fera le point sur la manifestation et répondra à vos questions. Vous recevrez une invitation avec les détails pour la réunion Zoom.

Nous avons une meilleure idée des répercussions des manifestations sur les services municipaux aujourd'hui et la Ville diffusera un message d'intérêt public à ce sujet plus tard cet après-midi.

Dès demain, les employés municipaux auront de nouveau accès au garage de stationnement de l'hôtel de ville qui est fermé depuis le vendredi 28 janvier. Ils devront présenter leur carte d'identité de la Ville au personnel de sécurité qui se trouvera à l'entrée P1 donnant sur la rue Elgin. Veuillez noter que le public ne peut pas accéder au stationnement, et ce, jusqu'à nouvel ordre.

Merci de votre soutien continu.

A release will follow this afternoon.....

We will also be issuing a release for a suspect to identify in the war memorial investigation.

Chief Sloly's Remarks to Council
February 2, 2022

Mayor Watson, Chair Deans. Members of the Police Services Board and Ottawa Council.

Today, the Command Team and I are here to provide you, and the many members of our community who are listening and watching, the most up to date information about the unlawful, volatile and disruptive demonstration that continues in a shrinking footprint of the downtown.

This is a unique and unprecedented demonstration. One that is well-funded and comes with extensive public safety risks.

This demonstration is local, provincial, national and international in scope, but individuals from across Canada and the United States, have converged on our city, putting the safety of our residents, businesses and communities at risk. We are managing this risk.

There have been no riots, injuries, or deaths. We are arresting, charging and investigating bad actors.

MESSAGE TO OTTAWA RESIDENTS

I first want to speak to the residents of Ottawa and especially those our diverse downtown core. We hear you. This illegal and unacceptable activity has had an immeasurable impact on your lives. [Riff]

Residents have been the victims of intense noise, threatening behaviour, vitriol and hatred that has no place in our city or anywhere.

My message to the unlawful demonstrators is clear: there are consequences, and there will be more to come.

Those who contributed most to the traffic chaos – including those from out of province – are being pursued and charged.

Those who have committed hate crimes and criminal offences are facing prosecution, and potential jail time.

Those who desecrated our monuments are being investigated and will be charged.

To the residents of Ottawa, we know you want more action, and we are escalating our actions, including enforcement, without escalating greater public safety risks.

Approach

This has truly become a whole of service, whole of community, whole of country effort. We are working with all levels of government and public safety agencies. All options for resolution are on table...from a negotiated resolution to an enforced resolution.

Not only are we deploying all available Ottawa Police Service resources every day – but we have also received additional officers and resources from the RCMP, the OPP and many other municipal police services across Ontario.

We have gathered some of the top policing experts and Public Order Unit commanders in the province and federally to propose solutions on containing and ending this activity, including direct enforcement actions. We are monitoring demonstrations across the country, including those in Alberta, and are implementing actions to prevent a long-term occupation of our streets.

OUTLINE OF PRESENTATION

This afternoon Deputy Chief Ferguson is going to lay out the current situation, explain our resourcing and approach as we move forward. She will talk about the daily efforts we are taking to contain this demonstration, to get them into places that do not affect residential areas and lessen the impact on the community.

She will also explain the actions our traffic officers have already begun to taking to increase traffic enforcement in the downtown core.

Deputy Chief Bell will describe the multiple arrests that have already taken place, the intelligence gathering and threat assessment, the ongoing investigations, including the National War Memorial investigation, that have been launched and the vital need for residents to report all crimes associated to this event, especially hate crimes.

Chief Administrative Officer Blair Dunker will lay out the initial financial costs and impact to our service's finances.

PAUSE

I said this week that all options are on the table. We are continually looking at our options and developing to end the demonstration as safely as possible while charging holding those who committed crimes to account.

Message to Demonstrators from the Ottawa Police Service

(Ottawa)—It is a criminal offence to obstruct, interrupt or interfere with the lawful use, enjoyment, or operation of property.

The offence is known as mischief to property.

The unlawful act of blocking streets in the downtown core is resulting in people being denied the lawful use, enjoyment and operation of their property.

We are providing you notice that anyone blocking streets or assisting others in the block of streets may be committing a criminal offence.

You must immediately cease further unlawful activity or you may face charges.

You could be arrested without a warrant for this offence if you are a party to the offence or assisting others in the direct or indirect commission in this offence.

Whether you are released on bail depends on factors contained in Part XVI of the Criminal Code.

Offence-related property, including vehicles, may be seized as part of the offence. The vehicles may be detained and, following a conviction, possibly forfeited.

Charges or convictions related to the unlawful activity associated with the demonstration may lead to denial in crossing the USA border.

Chair and Mayor,

The following release was issued this morning.

Officers are distributing the message on the ground to demonstrators.

John
s.14(1)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Wednesday, February 16, 2022 10:32 am

Notice to Demonstrators

(Ottawa)—You must leave the area now. Anyone blocking streets, or assisting others in the blocking streets, are committing a criminal offence and you may be arrested. You must immediately cease further unlawful activity or you will face charges. If you are arrested you may be released on bail depending on factors contained in Part XVI of the Criminal Code.

The people of Ottawa are being denied the lawful use, enjoyment and operation of their property and you are causing businesses to close. That is mischief under the Criminal Code.

Charges and/or convictions related to unlawful activity associated with the demonstration may lead to denial in crossing the USA border.

The Federal Emergencies Act allows for the regulation or prohibition of travel to, from or within any specified area. This means that anyone coming to Ottawa for the purpose of joining the ongoing demonstration is breaking the law. The act also provides police with a number of measures including the ability to seize vehicles that are part of this demonstration.

Ontario law (EMCPA) now prohibits interference with any critical infrastructure including 400-series highways, railways, airports and international border crossings. It prohibits you from preventing someone from travelling to or from walkways, bridges and highways (other than 400 series highways) or preventing anyone from using them. It also prohibits someone from seriously interfering with the safety, health or well-being of members of the public.

Anyone who commits these illegal actions could face fines or be required to appear in court. Commercial vehicle drivers' licences and private drivers' licences can be suspended or revoked.

Speaking Notes for I/Chief Steve Bell
Press Conference
February 17, 2022 – 3:30 pm

Good afternoon....Bonjour à tous,

My name is Steve Bell and I am the Interim Chief of the Ottawa Police Service.

I want to thank our partners from the Ontario Provincial Police and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for being here today.

With me I have:

Deputy Commissioner Chris Harkins of the OPP

and

RCMP Deputy-Commissioner Mike Duheme

The Ottawa Police Service, the RCMP and OPP, as well as numerous police agencies in Ontario and Quebec, are here in Ottawa. We have been bolstering our resources, developing clear plans, and preparing to take action.

That action is imminent.

In the past few days, we have been communicating directly to the unlawful protesters.

We have told them that they must leave, and we have warned them of the consequences of disobeying these orders.

We want to end this unlawful protest peacefully and safely. We are prepared to employ lawful techniques to remove unlawful protestors from our streets.

Today, I want to speak directly to our community and specifically the residents and businesses of the downtown core.

Your safety – everyone’s safety -- is our priority.

We know that you have been through a lot and I know these ongoing unlawful protests have caused pain and suffering.

We are committed to returning your streets back to you and back to normal.

We know that the increased police presence may be distressing.

Our officers are here to help. They care about this community and they are here to keep you safe while they complete this operation.

Overnight and into today, we have begun to harden the perimeter around the protests.

We are installing fencing and other barriers throughout the area.

In furtherance of our efforts to bring our city back to a state of normalcy, we have introduced a Secured Area. The Secured Area includes the area from Bronson Avenue to the Canal, and from the Queensway to Parliament Hill.

The Secured Area includes almost 100 checkpoints that will have police presence to ensure that those seeking to enter the Secured Area for an unlawful reason, such as to join this protest, cannot enter the core.

Again, I know that these are not measures that our community is used to. They will be in place only as long as necessary to remove this unlawful protest.

Our officers are aware of the impact on you and we are taking every step we can to minimize the impact on residents and businesses while keeping out those who would come to do more harm.

We want to reassure everyone that if you live, work, or have a lawful reason to be in the area, there will be a minimal impact on your access.

Once through the checkpoints, those with a lawful reason will be free to move about.

Individuals may leave the Secured Area at any time.

As we continue to increase our actions, we will be communicating them directly to the public. We have opened lines of communications with schools and other institutions.

To those engaged in this unlawful protest, if you want to leave under your own terms -- the time has come.

I am available to take questions.

Sweet, Laura

FYI...this has been issued

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Thursday, February 17, 2021 4:50pm

Secured Area Established

(Ottawa) – Under the Emergency Management and Civil Protection Act, the Unified Command in control of policing in Ottawa has established a Secured Area to ensure that individuals comply with the Emergency Measures Regulations and to ensure designated places (Parliament, Government buildings, critical infrastructure etc) are protected.

You cannot travel to or within an area where an assembly is taking place contrary to the Regulations.

At this time, the Secured Area is from Bronson Avenue to the Canal, the Queensway to Parliament Hill.

Anyone can enter the Secured Area if you fall under an exemption in the Regulations, meaning that you:

a. reside, work or are moving through that area for reasons other than to participate in or facilitate the assembly;

(b) are acting with the permission of a peace officer or the Minister of Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness;

(c) are a peace officer; or

(d) are an employee or agent of the government of Canada or a province who is acting in the execution of their duties.

You can expect to see police checkpoints where you will be asked your reason for travelling within the Secured Area.

You will be required to show proof of exemption for your travel to the Secured Area.

Expect traffic delays in and around the Secured Area. Please avoid the downtown core if you have no reason to be there.

“We do not take this decision lightly, we know this will impact the residents. Please bear with us while we work to return the city to a state of normalcy” stated Interim Chief Steve Bell. “We want to reassure everyone that if you live, work or have a reason to be in the area that your access will be minimally impacted.”

We want you to be aware that entering the Secured Area for the purpose of contravening the Emergency Act, may result in you being arrested and/or charged.

The Secured Area will only be enforced as long as necessary.

Mayor Watson and Chair El-Chantiry,

I am writing to update you on the ongoing operation to remove the unlawful protests from our streets.

Overnight and into this morning, we continued to move additional police and equipment into key staging areas.

Officers continued with increased actions, making several arrests.

Secured Area

The secured area in the downtown core -- from Bronson Avenue to the Canal, and from the Queensway to Parliament Hill -- remains in place and is monitored by police.

The secured area includes almost 100 checkpoints that will have police presence to ensure that those seeking to enter the Secured Area for an unlawful reason, such as to join this protest, cannot enter the core.

We expect that these measures will have an impact on local traffic and we are working with the city to alert residents to these traffic impacts.

We also have operational plans to address new convoys or others who are attempting to join these unlawful activities over the weekend.

Increased Police Presence

I want to thank all of our policing partners, including the RCMP and OPP and jurisdictions from across the province and country, for their support in this operation.

We are aware that the police presence in the area can be distressing to many in our community and we are working to ensure that residents and businesses can proceed with their daily activities with as little impact as possible. The police presence and action in the area will remain in place only as long as is necessary to remove these unlawful protesters.

Nicholas Street

This morning we began an 'actions on' phase which began with the deployment of our integrated Public Order Unit on Nicholas Street.

Protestors are being advised to leave or they will be arrested. We have made several arrests and there is mass arrest contingency in our operational plan.

There have been no incidents of violence.

This phase will not stop until Ottawa has been returned to a state of normalcy for residents and businesses to enjoy. We are asking for everyone's patience and understanding as we expect this to be a long process.

Once a state of normalcy has been achieved, we will begin a maintenance period to ensure we retain control of the city.

I will continue to keep you updated throughout the duration of this operation. We remain in regular contact with Chair El-Chantiry, Mayor Watson and the most affected City Councillors for the area.

Steve Bell

Check Against Delivery

Notes for Deputy Chief Steve Bell
1:30 Media Availability

The Ottawa Police Service and its partners continue to work all out to put a safe end to the unlawful occupation of our downtown core and improve neighbourhood safety.

Our surge and contain strategy, which has reduced the footprint of the demonstration continues. As do police operations focused on enforcement in our downtown core.

I want to make a few comments on the important court order issued yesterday.

The Ottawa Police Service is authorized to enforce compliance with the terms of a Court order. The Ottawa Police Service continues to have authority under section 127 of the Criminal Code to arrest and lay a charge for breaching a Court Order. Ottawa Police Officers will exercise their discretion in enforcing this order and any criminal investigation arising from an alleged breach of this order.

We are working to ensure we are enforcing the order. Work is underway to fully brief all officers on the terms of the order and their role in enforcing it. We are actively capturing and documenting evidence. We will have an update on this late today.

As more resources become available to us, we will use those resources specifically to focus on unlawful demonstrators whom have chosen to remain in our city. To date we have made 22 arrests, issued more than 500 tickets, and have 79 ongoing criminal investigations. We have seized fuel and cut off material, financial, and logistical support to the demonstration.

I also want to be clear we're not just dealing with demonstrators in Ottawa. Yesterday, working with Ohio police, we were able to trace, identify and arrest an individual for calling in fake threats designed to deceive, distract, and redirect our emergency response team.

The remaining demonstrators are highly determined and volatile. They have begun filling gas canisters with water, distracting officers, or otherwise attempting to subvert our efforts.

Yesterday, we had attacks on our officers. When attempting to seize fuel from demonstrators, multiple officers were swarmed by demonstrators. An investigation is underway into this matter.

We have seized and towed some vehicles and continue to face resource and operational challenges in doing more. Many heavy vehicles in the downtown core have been immobilized.

Recent aggressiveness towards our officers is unacceptable. Simply put, we want this to end – safely. We don't want anyone to be injured. We are doing everything we can, and need more resources.

Through information gathering, we have also learned almost 25 per cent of the 418 trucks encamped in our city have children living in them. Children who would be at risk should during a police operation. We are working with Children's Aid to ensure their welfare and safety.

Finally, Our message to demonstrators remains the same – don't come – and if you do, there will be consequences, including financial consequences, for illegal and unlawful behaviour.

Good Morning,

I understand Councilor McKenney is intending to bring a Motion before City Council requesting the RCMP assume command and control of the ongoing demonstration.

In accordance with s. 5(1)1 of the Police Services Act, the City of Ottawa has discharged its responsibility to provide police services by establishing a police force (the Ottawa Police Service). As a result, the Ottawa Police Service is the police service of jurisdiction with respect to the ongoing demonstrations in the City of Ottawa. The process for disabling a municipal police service is outlined within the Police Service Act (s. 40).

The RCMP are important police partners within the City of Ottawa, however they are not the police of jurisdiction. Although the RCMP has the authority to enforce federal laws and exercise their authority at common law in Ontario, members of the RCMP do not have the authority to enforce provincial legislation or municipal by-laws in Ontario in the absence of a bilateral agreement under s. 20 of the RCMP Act (or special constable status by provincial appointment). For this reason, the current RCMP members embedded within the OPS' command structure were required to be designated as special constables under the Ontario Police Services Act. These officers are not independent of us, but directly part of our command structure as it pertains to managing the ongoing demonstration.

Good evening,

This is the draft of a release being issued momentarily.

Ottawa Police Service Establish Integrated Command Centre to Coordinate Enforcement
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Saturday, February 12 2022

(Ottawa) – Together with the OPP and the RCMP, the Ottawa Police Service today announced the establishment of an enhanced, Integrated Command Centre (ICC) in response to a significant influx of demonstrators into the Ottawa area and escalation of the current occupation.

In downtown Ottawa, over 4,000 demonstrators were present throughout the day. Safety concerns, arising from aggressive, illegal behaviour by many demonstrators limited police enforcement capabilities.

We expect that the ICC will result in a significantly enhanced ability of our police service to respond to the current situation in our city. The ICC will allow us to make the most effective use of the additional resources our policing partners have provided to us.

In addition to the establishment of the ICC, the Ottawa Police Service provides the following update on operations for today:

Due to the volume of people and vehicles in the downtown core, police safely managed the movement of various convoys in and around Ottawa. One 300 vehicle convoy one and two, 20-kilometer long, car convoys from Quebec were safely managed.

- Interception of a fuel transport into the downtown core.

Operationalization of the new measures announced by the Ontario Government yesterday.

- Continued planning with all levels of government to bring an end to the current occupation.

The Ottawa Police Service will continue to provide additional operational updates as appropriate.

Mayor and Chair,

The Chief will be holding a news conference today at 3:30 p.m.

Below are his notes to be checked against delivery and attached is a news release that was issued to media.

John

s.14(1)

Good afternoon and thank you for joining us.

Today I want to update you on our efforts to put an end to the unlawful occupation.

First, I want to talk to you about our request for additional resources.

We are working with all levels of government, as well as our policing partners, to secure additional help.

There are positive ongoing discussions, and we welcome the RCMP's commitment earlier today of additional officers.

Reinforcements mean results.

Over the last 24-hours, we have worked to reduce the footprint of the occupation through a combination of negotiation and enforcement.

In particular, I can report that:

- . We negotiated the departure of 12 trucks from the Coventry Road encampment, and 10 trucks from the downtown core.
- . Firewood and fuel continue to be interdicted and seized;
- . Over 1,700 tickets have been issued;

- . There have been a total of 25 arrests; and
- . We have 126 active criminal investigations.

We are making progress and the key to success is more resources.

We expect that many unlawful demonstrators are considering coming to our city this weekend. Don't.

The Ottawa Police will continue to deploy our surge, enforce and contain strategy. Hardening the downtown core, and deploying all available resources.

We know that the residents of Ottawa are angry. We know you are tired. We know you want your city back. You have suffered, and we will ensure those responsible face the consequences.

The Ottawa Police Service, and our policing partners, are doing everything in our power to put an end to this unlawful occupation.

I want to thank every member of our service –you have stepped up in every imaginable way to protect our residents and keep our city safe. Our City and our Service, owe each of you an immeasurable debt of gratitude. Thank you.

Mayor and Chair,

We continue to hold our positions throughout the downtown core.

There has been a major emphasis on high visibility patrols. Checkpoints remain in place.

Overnight

One man was re-arrested for breaching release conditions from a weekend arrest.

A handful of protesters came and went from SJAM and Booth at times throughout the night.

The footprint of the exclusion zone remains in place from (Wellington from Bay to Elgin, north of Sparks).

Fencing is in place on Wellington, west of Mackenzie

The Coventry Road location remains secure. 20 vehicles were towed and a police presence will remain in place to prevent anyone from returning.

Moving Forward

A strong police presence will remain in the coming days and we have plans and contingencies for the week ahead and next weekend. I will update the community later this week.

We thank businesses and residents for their patience throughout this operation.

Supporting local businesses is considered lawful if you are entering the secured area.

Media

We do not plan to hold a news conference today. We will be communicating through @ottawapolice on Twitter, a news release and directly through our media office.

Mayor and Chair,
We are continuing to make progress.
Yesterday there were a total of 120+ arrests and 38 vehicles were towed.
A few members from the different Public Order Units suffered minor injuries.
The commanders and frontline officers were deliberate and methodical. Many unlawful protesters were assaultive and aggressive with officers and the horses.
Based on the behaviour we have seen, we have responded by including helmets and batons for the safety of our members.
We have another difficult day ahead. We are grateful for the support of the community.
Please follow @ottawapolice for updates. We expect to hold an update for media mid-afternoon.

Mayor and Chair,
The officers on the ground continue to face extremely difficult circumstances. We are all impressed with their resilience and patient professionalism.
We made good progress today but there is still much work to do. The Unified Command remains committed and confident in the operational plan.
This operation will run 24 hours a day until these unlawful protests are fully removed.
Here is the current update:
Arrests: 100+
Vehicles towed: 21
Location: Officers have successfully and safely moved unlawful protesters past the intersection of Mackenzie Avenue on Rideau Street (at the front of the Chateau Laurier).
Unlawful protesters assaulted officers and police lines and have attempted to remove officers' weapons. All means of de-escalation are being used.
To prevent an escalation or further injury, mounted officers were sent in to create critical space between the police line and protesters.
This was done to create a safe distance. As this was happening a bicycle was thrown at the feet of one of the horses in an attempt to injure it. One person was arrested for intentionally harming a police service animal.
We continue to operate our social media accounts into the early hours of the morning.
Please follow @ottawapolice for updates.
Thank you.

We continue to ask unlawful protesters to leave. Officers have been very busy with activity in the secured areas as well as the 100 checkpoints surrounding the secured area.

There have been at least 15 arrests so far.

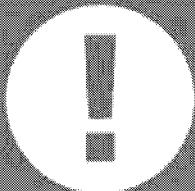

We are slowly clearing Nicholas Street and operations have begun at Rideau and Sussex.

The following messages are being shared widely on social media:

Subject: Update on Police Operations

Importance: High

Mayor Watson and Chair El-Chantiry,

I am writing to update you on the ongoing operation to remove the unlawful protests from our streets.

Overnight and into this morning, we continued to move additional police and equipment into key staging areas.

Officers continued with increased actions, making several arrests.

Secured Area

The secured area in the downtown core -- from Bronson Avenue to the Canal, and from the Queensway to Parliament Hill -- remains in place and is monitored by police.

The secured area includes almost 100 checkpoints that will have police presence to ensure that those seeking to enter the Secured Area for an unlawful reason, such as to join this protest, cannot enter the core.

We expect that these measures will have an impact on local traffic and we are working with the city to alert residents to these traffic impacts.

We also have operational plans to address new convoys or others who are attempting to join these unlawful activities over the weekend.

Increased Police Presence

I want to thank all of our policing partners, including the RCMP and OPP and jurisdictions from across the province and country, for their support in this operation.

We are aware that the police presence in the area can be distressing to many in our community and we are working to ensure that residents and businesses can proceed with their daily activities with as little impact as possible. The police presence and action in the area will remain in place only as long as is necessary to remove these unlawful protesters.

Nicholas Street

This morning we began an 'actions on' phase which began with the deployment of our integrated Public Order Unit on Nicholas Street.

Protestors are being advised to leave or they will be arrested. We have made several arrests and there is mass arrest contingency in our operational plan.

There have been no incidents of violence.

This phase will not stop until Ottawa has been returned to a state of normalcy for residents and businesses to enjoy. We are asking for everyone's patience and understanding as we expect this to be a long process.

Once a state of normalcy has been achieved, we will begin a maintenance period to ensure we retain control of the city.

I will continue to keep you updated throughout the duration of this operation. We remain in regular contact with Chair El-Chantiry, Mayor Watson and the most affected City Councillors for the area.

Mayor Watson and Chair El-Chantiry,

I am writing to update you on the ongoing operation to remove the unlawful protests from our streets.

Overnight and into this morning, we continued to move additional police and equipment into key staging areas.

Officers continued with increased actions, making several arrests.

Secured Area

The secured area in the downtown core -- from Bronson Avenue to the Canal, and from the Queensway to Parliament Hill -- remains in place and is monitored by police.

The secured area includes almost 100 checkpoints that will have police presence to ensure that those seeking to enter the Secured Area for an unlawful reason, such as to join this protest, cannot enter the core.

We expect that these measures will have an impact on local traffic and we are working with the city to alert residents to these traffic impacts.

We also have operational plans to address new convoys or others who are attempting to join these unlawful activities over the weekend.

Increased Police Presence

I want to thank all of our policing partners, including the RCMP and OPP and jurisdictions from across the province and country, for their support in this operation.

We are aware that the police presence in the area can be distressing to many in our community and we are working to ensure that residents and businesses can proceed with their daily activities with as little impact as possible. The police presence and action in the area will remain in place only as long as is necessary to remove these unlawful protesters.

Nicholas Street

This morning we began an 'actions on' phase which began with the deployment of our integrated Public Order Unit on Nicholas Street.

Protestors are being advised to leave or they will be arrested. We have made several arrests and there is mass arrest contingency in our operational plan.

There have been no incidents of violence.

This phase will not stop until Ottawa has been returned to a state of normalcy for residents and businesses to enjoy. We are asking for everyone's patience and understanding as we expect this to be a long process. Once a state of normalcy has been achieved, we will begin a maintenance period to ensure we retain control of the city.

I will continue to keep you updated throughout the duration of this operation. We remain in regular contact with Chair El-Chantiry, Mayor Watson and the most affected City Councillors for the area.

Mayor Watson and Chair El-Chantiry,

We continue to ask unlawful protesters to leave. Officers have been very busy with activity in the secured areas as well as the 100 checkpoints surrounding the secured area.

There have been at least 15 arrests so far.

We are slowly clearing Nicholas Street and operations have begun at Rideau and Sussex.

The following messages are being shared widely on social media:

- You can expect to see police checkpoints where you will be asked your reason for travelling within the Secured Area.
- There is an increased presence of police in the downtown core. We know this may be distressing to some residents. Officers are there to protect your safety.
- Charge laid in relation to Unlawful Protests in Ottawa bit.ly/3JC4W8x
- There is a large police presence on Nicholas Street, protesters are being advised to leave immediately. Some protesters are surrendering and are being arrested. We ask protesters to remain peaceful and lawful.
- The Ottawa Police Service wants to inform you that under provincial and federal legislation, you will face severe penalties if you do not cease further unlawful activity and remove your vehicle and/or property immediately from all unlawful protest sites.
- All media who are attending the area, please keep a distance and stay out of police operations for your safety. Anyone found within areas undergoing enforcement may be subject to arrest. There will be a media availability later today at 474 Elgin Street.
- DEMONSTRATORS: You must leave. You must cease further unlawful activity and immediately remove your vehicle and/or property from all unlawful protest sites. Anyone within the unlawful protest site may be arrested.
- We are aware of a concerted effort to flood our 911 and non-emergency policing reporting line. This endangers lives and is completely unacceptable. It is a crime to unnecessarily call 911 or our non-emergency number (613-236-1222). We track calls and will charge anyone deliberately interfering with emergencies.
- DEMONSTRATORS: If you choose to leave but cannot move your vehicle, it will be towed. Follow the instructions below to retrieve it.
